Dr. Plumer's Speech THE VETERAN CREATES A SENSATION IN EDIN

BURGH-A REMARKABLE SPEECH. The correspondent of the New York Herald, writing from Edinburgh of the Pan-Presbyterian Council, thus speaks of a venerable divine whose name is a "tower of strength" in this community:

Any account of the personnel of the Council would be incomplete without special reference to Dr. William S. Plumer, of South Carolina, its veteran. This grand old manin his eighty-eighth year-with his long, snowy bair and patriarchial beard-migh suggest the ideal Rip Van Winkle were his mind not so wide-awake. Dr. Plumer was once minister of the church of Fredericksburg, and indeed for a generation was the Presbyterian giant of Virginia. He was the leading man of a once famous Convention which met at Richmond to consider the educational condition of that State. There he opposed the late Samuel M. Janney, who wanted the free-school system, but complimented that They barely escaped with their lives in officiate at both services. He (Dr. Plumer) had found it so; the order had gone out from Rome, "Never mind the noise if you get the men." The speaker seemed inspired with the theme. He declared the most eloquent preacher he ever heard in his life was a black man from Tennessee; that the only way to convert Africa, and forever end the odious slavetrade, was to make a united effort to win the hearts of the colored people in America. It was a very remarkable speech this of Dr. Plumer, especially as the working of a high pected and promised visit, some of them and human spirit in the heart of that State
